

Goodness – we have now been around for a dozen years! You are invited to the 12th annual C3 user meeting. Of course we have a theme (we always do). This year's theme:

New ways of looking at crystals

As per usual, Janet will speak too much. And drink diet, caffeinated softdrink (brand depends on what's on special at Coles.)

We will also be showcasing talent from C3 to talk about new tools that are available.

But what we really want is for this to be a little more interactive. So here it is:

We will be offering a prize. Some really meaningful prize (like chocolate Easter Eggs).

The prize(s) will go to the person or group who communicates best about their crystals in some orthogonal manner. No PowerPoint, unless used in some bizarre way. Your choice of medium

Rap?
Interpretive Dance?
Haiku*?

(We will bribe you to turn up by providing some good, solid student-appropriate food. Beer. Pizza.)

Your C3 Team

C3 User Meeting
2-4pm, 23rd March, 2018
CSIRO Conference Room, 2nd floor
343 Royal Parade
Parkville VIC 3052

RSVP: C3@csiro.au

*Here is one generated almost automatically (<https://www.poem-generator.org.uk/haiku/>)

Well-organised lab
A large, shiny Crystal grows
In precipitate.